I have been saying that for a week. I should have the review done next week.

I said it would take a couple of weeks last week. You will not receive them this week, next week, most likely.

That you worded this in a way to imply I agreed to produce by tomorrow is disturbing. You do realize that you likely will have your documents before the motion is heard, right?

Saul:

Please confirm that we will receive a full production of all response documents before the close of business tomorrow.
